

Leadership High School Banquet

Leadership High School is an educational program specifically designed for incoming high school juniors. The program teaches the participants to develop their leadership skills and introduces them to the many facets of Havre's community and volunteer opportunities. Last Tuesday March 22, Havre's Leadership High School participants came to the Northern campus for their awards banquet. Senator John Tester was able to attend the banquet and give a speech urging the high school students to be active and effective leaders in their school and community.

For more general information or for detailed information on class locations in other Montana towns, visit the website: <http://motorcycle.msun.edu/>

Fiddler on the Roof Musical

Fiddler on the Roof has been a favorite musical for many families throughout decades. The story revolves around a little Russian town called Anatevka and its inhabitants who are stuck in their traditions. The milkman- Tevye, his wife, and five daughters are the featured family of this town in a plot that will make you think, laugh, and cry. This musical is based on the book by Joseph Stein and includes music and lyrics by Jerry Rock and Sheldon Harnick respectively. MAT's version of this classic musical will be directed by Rachel Stevens Dean and Susan Brurud. The first shows were performed on March 18-19. The rest of the showings are March 25-26, and 31 and April 1-2. Thursday-Saturday performances will be at 8:00 P.M. with Saturday matinees at 2 p.m. The bar opens at 7:30 P.M. Performances will be held at the MSU-N Theater. Tickets will be $20 for adults, $15 for students, and MSU-N students are admitted for FREE with I.D. Tickets are available for purchase online at www.mtactors.com

Opportunities to Study Abroad

Students, are you interested in studying in another country? If so, please attend the informational meeting that will be held next Wednesday, March the 30th in the Hagener Science Center- room 202 from 3-4 P.M. During this meeting you will be able to discover where you can go, what the various programs would cost, how financial aid applies, when applications are due, along with answers to other frequently asked questions about studying abroad. Please attend this meeting if you are at all interested!

Fastenal Information Session- Finding New Leaders in all Majors

Since 1967 Fastenal has grown from a small-town fastener store into a Fortune 1000 company and a member of the S&P 500, creating opportunities for everyone in the company along the way. What's the secret to their success? Fastenal hires great people and has a management philosophy that encourages them to become leaders who guide their company forward. With opportunities at over 2,500+ locations across the United States and abroad, wherever you are (or want to be), Fastenal can put you on the fast track to a satisfying and successful career. Chris Tuft, Montana District Manager will share a brief presentation on opportunities within this fast growing company. All students are encouraged to attend; Fastenal is looking for students from all majors. The informational session will be at 4:00 p.m. on Thursday March the 31st in Cowan Hall room 317.

Register Today for Summer Courses

The Summer Session 2011 courses and workshops that have been scheduled in Havre, Great Falls and Lewistown as well as online are now available on the Extended University website at www.msun.edu/distance. In addition to the schedule of courses and workshops offered, the website also has the forms available for students to apply for admission to Northern, to register for courses and workshops, housing and tuition information as well as important dates to remember. Hard copies of the summer schedule were not printed this year. If you know of students or others planning to register for a course or workshop this summer, please encourage them to do so as soon as possible.

The Meaning of Service Group Discussion

Take a moment to reflect on your values, challenges, and motivations around your work or service. We often talk about what we do or how we do it. Now let's discuss why with a group discussion for students, faculty, and community partners facilitated by Dr. Dean McGovern, Executive Director of Montana Campus Compact. The discussion will take place on Tuesday, April the 5th from 6 - 7:30 p.m. in the MSU-Northern Student Union Building in the Crowley Conference Room. Registration is required. Contact Jennifer Henderson at 265-3708 or henderson@msun.edu to register or for more information.

Service-Learning = Improved Teaching, Learning, & Communities.

Featured speaker Dr. Dean McGovern, Executive Director of Montana Campus Compact will be helping any interested participants learn more about how to integrate service-learning into your existing courses or create new courses with community partners. This interactive presentation is designed to inspire faculty members, reinvigorate teaching, and address questions you may have about service-learning and civic reflection. The presentation will be on Tuesday, April the 5th from Noon -12:50 p.m. in GYM 233. Lunch will be provided. Your RSVP is required by April 4th to: darlene.cline@students.msun.edu.

Word 2007/2010 Tip

Three simple ways to keep Word text together

You probably let Word wrap text automatically at the right margin and page breaks. And most of the time Word does a good job. But there are times when you'll want to keep words and text together. Fortunately, Word has some easy methods for keeping text together.

Nonbreaking spaces - Just because there's a space between two words doesn't mean it's Okay to break the pair up. There are just some things where you'll want words to appear on the same line. When this happens, insert a nonbreaking space instead of a regular space between the words. For instance, if you wanted to keep "Ph.D" with a name, you would enter a nonbreaking space between the last name and Ph.D. To enter a nonbreaking space: hold down the Ctrl and Shift keys and then press the Spacebar.

Nonbreaking hyphen - A nonbreaking hyphen works with hyphenated words. If you don't want Word to wrap at a hyphen character, enter a nonbreaking hyphen instead. Then if the hyphenated word is at the right margin, Word will wrap the entire word to the next line if necessary, rather than breaking at the hyphen. To enter a nonbreaking hyphen: hold down the Ctrl and Shift keys and then press the - (hyphen) key.

Nonbreaking paragraphs and lines - When you don't want a paragraph or even several lines of text to break between two pages, do the following:

1. On the Home tab, click the Paragraph group's dialog launcher (the small arrow at the bottom-right of the group).
2. Click the Line and Page Breaks tab.
3. Check the Keep Lines together option, and click OK.
