Mission Statement

From the Chancellor

Since my arrival on campus, we have talked about the importance of data-informed decision-making as a key component of institutional growth. To that end, a "data portrait" of the university is in the final stages of development—a precursor to the establishment of a comprehensive data fact book that builds on the work already accomplished with MSUN's Common Data Set.

This week, I would like to provide you a glimpse of the type of data that has been generated thus far. The complete data portrait will be made available in early May.

Using data gleaned from our fall 2012 class (headcount of 1282), you will be interested to know that

- 89% of our students were in-state residents;
- We are truly an institution that serves north-central Montana, with significant numbers of students residing in Hill, Cascade, Blaine, and Fergus counties;
- 34% of the fall class (435 students) were first-generation students;
- Our student body was split 50/50 by gender (671 women, 611 men);
- 12.3% (158) members of the class self-reported as Native American;
- 13.2% (170) members of the class were involved in NAIA athletics and club sports (e.g., rodeo, cheerleading);
- While our average student age is 26, our largest cumulative headcount last fall was in the "traditional" college ages of 18-21;
- 50% of our student body was enrolled in one of four major areas (diesel technology, nursing, business administration, and elementary education); and
- Nearly one-half of all students enrolled last fall took at least one on-line course.

As we continue to develop the necessary databases that are vital to understanding our students, our processes, and our institution, I want to extend a sincere thanks to Matt DeLong, Registrar's Office, who has been instrumental in this effort.

Later in this edition of NNN you will see additional data that celebrates your efforts thus far to aggressively address our efforts to improve student retention and student success.

This Week on Campus

Spring Fling

This year's Spring Fling on April the 5th was another great success. The Northern Lights Athletic & Scholarship Foundation (NLASF) Spring Fling Dinner and Auction is the only event you can find Chick-Tac-Toe, Putting for Dough, and free-flowing $20's. The Fling is an event to raise scholarship dollars for the Lights & Skylights. Over 500 community members come out to enjoy the festivities. The night featured fun games, bucket drawings, bingo, silent and live auction items. The auctions alone brought in $53,000. Not only was a lot of fun had but many people, businesses and athletes were honored. The Bob Bricker Shining Light Award was given to Scott Young, a tremendous supporter of Northern and the athletes. Mike Tilleman was presented a #74 jersey for being the mastermind behind the NLASF events over 10 years ago. Cameron Neiss and Abby Nicholas were honored as male and female athletes of the year. Special thanks were given to Gerald & Shirley Keller, Holt Plumbing & Heating, Chad & Davilyn McCormick, and KRTV for sponsoring different aspects of the night. The next NLASF event will be the golf tournament in June. For more information visit their website at www.legendsforlights.com. Northern is always very pleased with the outcome of each year's Spring Fling. The overall totals of the funds raised are still being tabulated. Northern thanks everyone who contributed to this fantastic fundraising event.

Program Prioritization Review Update

By: Dr. Rosalyn Templeton

MSUN's faculty and academic leaders have just completed the program prioritization review process. All programs (75 certificates and degrees) were reviewed and recommendations were made to grow, maintain, integrate/revise, or phase-out. The Chancellor will examine the recommendations from the faculty, Academic Senate, Academic Council, and the Provost and make a final decision on May 10, 2013.

Golden "N" Recipients

Becky Nicholson (L) and Wane Boysun (R) were this year's Golden "N" winners. Nicholson and Boysun were recognized at the Student Excellence Awards luncheon which occurred yesterday. The award is given by Student Senate and the winners are selected by the students based on the helpfulness and overall readiness to assist students and help them achieve. The Golden "N" Award is the most prestigious award an MSU-Northern faculty or staff member can receive.

Evidence of Retention Success

By Tracey Jette

We are already seeing benefits from our commitment to student success and retention! We have had a 6.5% increase in our student persistence rate (First-time, Full-time Freshman students who continue their education from Fall semester to Spring semester) this year! With the ongoing guidance of our Noel-Levitz retention consultant, MSU-Northern is continuing to make student-centered changes to support the success of our students. A big THANK YOU to all of the hard working faculty and staff who continue to contribute to our student's success!

Northern Hosts State SkillsUSA Competition

Montana's SkillsUSA held their 42nd annual State Leadership & Skills Conference on the MSU-Northern campus this week (April 8-10). MSU-Northern has hosted the event since 1972. SkillsUSA is a nationally based club that offers competitive workforce skill-training opportunities for high school and college students. Northern welcomed the annual gathering again this year, utilizing much of the campus' for the many presentations and competitions that were offered. This year, 352 students from 35 high schools as well as students from 2 post-secondary schools rallied together in Havre for the competitions. This year there were nearly forty categories to choose from. The most popular events were: arc welding, automotive service technology, basic welding, basic wood technology, carpentry, combination welding, extemporaneous speaking, job interview, job skill demonstration, power equipment technology, and the ever-famous SkillsUSA Quiz Bowl.

Student Athletes of the Year

This year's Student Athletes of the Year are Abby Nicholas and Cameron Neiss. Here's a little bit about these extraordinary Northern athletes:

Abby Nicholas is the daughter of Bill and Heather Nicholas. She grew up in Salt Lake City, UT and attended Riverton High School, where she began her volleyball career, playing all four years there. After high school, Nicholas was recruited by and signed with Laramie County Community College in Cheyenne, WY where she played for two years.

This past season, her first at MSU-Northern, Nicholas was named 1st Team All-Conference, 2012 AVCA Northwest All-Region (the first player in 21 years to earn this honor), and a Daks-Stats Scholar Athlete, maintaining a 3.90 GPA in Nursing. She led her team in blocks and hitting percentage, while placing in the top ten in the conference in 3 categories as well (hitting %, kills per set and blocks).

Nicholas states, "The volleyball team has quickly become my family and everyone is very close. I want to thank all of my teammates and coaches for making my experience here the best. Without the team, I wouldn't have the drive to compete as hard as I do. I also really want to thank my parents for being my number one support system and driving all over the region to watch every game they possibly can." She continues, "I am honored to be part of the Northern Volleyball team that made so much history in 2012. The team has come so far from where the program was a few years ago, and I plan on working incredibly hard this summer so that when we come back this fall we get the conference championship."

Cameron Neiss is from Ronan, MT and is currently a junior at MSU-Northern. During his true freshman year at MSU-Northern, Neiss earned All-American status by placing 7th at the NAIA National Tournament. During his sophomore campaign, Neiss overcame a dislocated elbow at the start of the season to again qualify for his 2nd trip to the NAIA National Championships. That same season, on February 20, 2012, Neiss and Mariah Cheff welcomed their daughter Laila Kay Neiss to the world.

During this season, 2012-13, Neiss was able to climb back into the driver seat at 133 lbs as he bested two #1 ranked opponents during the season to claim the #1 ranking prior to the National Championships. In December he beat the #1 ranked student by major decision. At the Regional Qualifier, he bested the #1 ranked wrestler in the semifinals with a come-from-behind victory and then beat the #2 ranked wrestler in the finals to claim his first Regional Title and receive the West Region honor of Outstanding Wrestler. He then went into Nationals and made an incredible run to the finals and ended his junior campaign as the NAIA National runner-up. Neiss finished the 2012-13 season with a 33-9 record, and was named the team's Outstanding Wrestler of the Year. He is now a 2x All-American and was also honored as an Academic All-American in 2013 with a 3.52 cumulative GPA. Neiss is majoring in Health Promotions and is the son of John Neiss.

Northern Showcase presented The Alley Cats

The Alley Cats performed at the Havre High Auditorium this Tuesday. This was the last performance of the 2012-13 Northern Showcase Concert Association season, and what a performance it was! The 50s/60s "doo-wop group" entertained the crowd with perfect blend of tight a cappella harmonies and comic timing. Their interaction with the audience combined with their spontaneous humor made the show refreshing and exciting.

Learn to Budget for a Better College Experience

College students shouldn't be forced to compromise on their college experience just in the name of cutting costs. Rather, students should focus on finding ways to set up and live within a budget that minimizes unnecessary spending and lets them choose when and how they want to splurge. To help make those budgeting dreams a reality, here's a quick and simple guide to cutting the fat out of college spending while still indulging in those great opportunities. <http://cheapscholar.org/2013/03/07/learn-to-budget-for-a-better-college-experience/>

ASMSUN Program Council Presents Reggae Artist, Cas Haley

America's favorite homegrown reggae artist, Cas Haley, will be performing at MSU-Northern on April the 16th at the Student Union Ballroom at 7 p.m. Haley first came to national attention in 2007 as a contestant on the second season of the television show "America's Got Talent," where he finished in second place and, in the process, garnered a huge audience of fans. Haley's debut album, which came out quickly to capitalize on the success of AGT, sold over 30,000 units in the U.S. without a marketing campaign or extensive distribution.

In his new album, Connection, Haley wanted to make a timeless album so he retreated to his hometown of Paris, Texas, and took two years to create a record that honestly represented who he is as an artist. The process was long, but Haley has emerged with a strong musical statement.

One track on the album is a cover-version of the Commodores song "Easy," and upon hearing Haley sing his classic hit, Lionel Richie stated "he made it seem easy, and there's nothing easy about it." Since rising to prominence on the world stage, Haley has performed alongside such notables as UB40, Blues Traveler, Al Green, Los Lonely Boys, Martin Sexton, Soulive, Mofro, and Lucky Dube, to name a few.

Admission for this performance is free to MSU-Northern students, faculty and staff. Community members may attend for $5/adult and $3/student. For more info visit www.cashaley.com

@ Your Library

By Vicki Gist

Finals week begins in 2 weeks! Are you looking for a place to study? Come to the library! You will find tables where you can spread out your project or small booths (carrels) in which to study. The quietest place to study in the library is downstairs near the outside walls. This is a good place to get lost for a few hours of intense study time. You can also use your laptop downstairs. Look for the carrels with the "Plug In Here" signs. There is WiFi available on both floors.

Are you looking for a place to meet your group to work on a project or study for an exam? You will find 2 study rooms and lots of tables on the main level of the library. And, don't forget the Coffee Cart for that hot or cold beverage and quick snack to keep you going.

Starting Monday, April the 22nd the library will be open extended hours. The library will be open nights until 11:00 p.m. on April 22-25 and April 28-May 2. The library will also be open Saturday, April the 27th from 1:00 PM-5:00 p.m. Check the library's webpage (<http://www.msun.edu/infotech/library/index.htm>) for a complete listing of hours.

Excel 2010 Tip

Use Data Validation to display comments or data entry tips

Excel Comments let you display information about the values in a cell. The notes might be for you or they can be information for other users. Excel displays the comment when you mouse over the cell - you don't have to select the cell, just move the mouse over the cell. However, using this method the comments can obscure data that you're trying to view and this behavior can be annoying to some people. If you're in that group, there's an alternative. You can use Data Validation to attach information to a cell and Excel will display it only when the cell (or cells) are selected.

To use Data Validation to attach text to a cell, do the following:

1. Select the cell or cells you want to add a comment to.
2. Click the Data tab and then in the Data Tools group choose Data Validation from the Data Validation dropdown.
3. In the resulting dialog box, click the Input Message tab.
4. Enter a title and message. (The title isn't actually necessary - you can omit it if you like) Notice that Excel checks the Show Input Message When Cell Is Selection option by default. For this technique to work, this option must be checked.
5. Click OK.

Now, change the selection and then move the mouse over the cell - Excel doesn't display the text you entered. Select the cell and Excel does display the message.

This technique is easy to implement, but it uses Data Validation in an unusual way so you might not think of it.

A Pinch of Salt

By Kimmi Boyce

Continuing with the theme of frugality for the month, here are a couple more tips on how to save money on a day-to-day basis.

- Buying lunch at $6 a day totals nearly $800 for the year! If you have the makings for some brown bag lunches at home, tap into the food you've already purchased by packing your lunch.
- Another way to save on food is to plan your meals before you go grocery shopping. Without a strictly defined list, people tend to impulse buy. Avoid this temptation and save money with a little forethought.
- Very seriously consider cutting some of your credit cards. Interest rates will eat you alive if you're not careful with your cash. If you can't afford to pay for all the stuff on your card, reevaluate. Resituate, and downsize your wallet's plastic weight by dealing with money that you physically possess.
- Discipline is key when it comes to saving some dough. Though it may sound boring and laborious, draw up a budget. Be realistic but not too generous with any frivolous items. Finalize the budget and stick to it! This technique is a basic one, but it really works and helps millions of people save tons of cash.

Ideas gleaned from: <http://www.howstuffworks.com/personal-finance/budgeting/10-easy-ways-to-save-money.htm#page=10>
