20 New Laptops in the Library

Students with a current I.D. can sign one of these computers out for four hours at a time. Several departments on campus came together to provide the funds to make this project a reality. For more information on these new computers see the Library column below.

East Hall Remembered

The Havre/Hill County Historic Preservation Commission donated a plaque to the campus to remember the site of historic East Hall. Present for this historic moment was (pictured L to R) Debbie Vandeberg, Lynda Taplin, Keith Doll, Gary Wilson, Becki Miller, James Limbaugh, Wade Bitz and Dan Ulmen.

East Hall was one of the original buildings on the campus. It was the Havre Park Pumping Station before it was renovated into classrooms and administrative offices. It was a majestic old building which served the campus well until it was demolished in 1979.

Today the area where East Hall once stood is a picnic area. This plaque and the headstone from the building now serve as a reminder of all the wonderful contributions this building made to the town and the campus. Next time you are enjoying a picnic on the East Hall Lawn you will want to take a few minutes to read the plaque and reflect on our past.

MSU-Northern Earns NAIA Champions of Character Five-Star Institution Award

MSU-Northern recently earned the 2012-2013 NAIA Champions of Character Five-Star Institution Award. The Champions of Character Program strives to promote high levels of moral reasoning within athletic students across the nation.

The Champions of Character Program believes that "character is handed down from one generation to the next." Champions of Character desires for students to maintain a healthy balance between social and moral reasoning, and MSU-Northern's student athletes have learned this balance from observing character-driven adults and coaches. "This award says a great deal about our coaching staff and our student-athletes and how they conduct themselves on and off the playing field and in the classroom" said MSU-Northern's Athletic Director and Head Athletic Trainer Christian Oberquell.

A Pinch of Salt

By Kimmi Boyce

Last Monday boasted two special noteworthy anniversaries, one being my birthday, and the other being Columbus Day. Since Columbus Day's longevity outshines the celebration of my birth by hundreds of years, this week's blurb is dedicated to some interesting facts you may not know about the acclaimed explorer.

1. Columbus was not trying to prove that the world was round. Pythagoras and Aristotle had both made this observation years and years prior to Columbus's explorations, so most educated individuals of his time already believed in the earth's spherical appearance.

2. Nina and Pinta were not the official names of two of Columbus's ships. Pinta is the Spanish word for "painted one" or "prostitute." The mariners aboard the ship gave this vessel its nickname. The ship actually named the Santa Clara was given a less risqué nickname, being dubbed the Nina after the ship's owner, Juan Nino. We know the Santa Maria by its true name, but it also had a nickname, La Gallega, after the area in Galicia where it was constructed.

3. The Santa Maria was destroyed on Christmas Eve of 1492 when a cabin boy ran the ship into a coral reef. When Columbus returned to Spain, he rode aboard the Nina but had to leave about 40 crewmembers behind, without the use of the Santa Maria. These crewmen were supposed to start the first settlement, but when Columbus returned in the fall of 1493, none of those men were alive.

I gleaned this information from: <http://www.history.com/news/10-things-you-may-not-know-about-christopher-columbus>
