

Tech Snacks: “Kanopy” at MSU-Northern

Patricia Dubosky, Library Director, Vande Bogart Library
Friday, Nov. 18, 2022

Why should faculty and students use Kanopy?

The library pays for this ~$2,800 annual subscription to ~10,000 streaming videos via a consortium agreement with TRAILS (Treasure State Academic Information & Library Services)

- Documentaries by subject area (Applied Sciences, Medicine, DEI) to personal development skills (Mental Health, Nutrition, and Fitness)
- Criterion Collection
- Feature films

91% of faculty say including streaming video and other digital media in course materials improves student outcomes*

- Encourage open discussion on key issues
- Embed video clips into LMS (D2L) see library tutorials on library’s homepage and select “Kanopy”
- Save favorite videos to watchlists

75% of students say lectures enhanced with streaming video and multimedia are more engaging**

- Utilize video as foundational and supplementary material for research papers and presentations
- Follow up and explore on a professor’s videoclips by watching the full video
- Cite videos and export in up-to-date MLA, CMS, and APA formats
- View videos anytime and anywhere using Kanopy’s extensive apps and website

How do I get to Kanopy?

Go to www.msun.edu/library > click on the Databases & Research button > click on the first link, Article & Research Databases > click on K and then Kanopy

- Off-campus, all you need to access it is your MSU-Northern login credentials.